

IT'S TIME FOR THE FAIR

OLPH Event This Weekend

Scores Of Booths Offer Fair Goers A Variety Of Fun And Entertainment

To some people, this weekend is just any old weekend in October—good time to clean out the basement, or mow the lawn or perhaps get at some odd job one has been putting off all summer.

Perhaps the football game on Saturday is the interesting high-point of the weekend—or a super special date with a super special person. These people, with these odd interests, are not Daly Cityites! At least the parishioners of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church and their friends, this weekend means only one thing. The opening of the long awaited Country Fair.

In case there are one or two uninformed Record readers, we will repeat... The Country Fair will be presented by the parishioners of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in the school grounds and school auditorium at 80 Wellington Ave., October 19th, 20th and 21st (this weekend). Doors open at 3:30 Friday night and close when everyone goes home—6:30 Saturday night and 12:30 Sunday afternoon and continue on until—

Attractive Booths

Varied and attractive are the many booths piled high with such variety of articles that everyone will be satisfied. Games of skill or everyone including a complete carnival in itself for the children will be offered. Delicious home-made cakes, pies, casserole dishes, etc., will be on hand for the enjoyment of the many guests expected and always the every-popular "hot dogs" and cokes.

All Parish organizations are helping to make the "Country Fair" just about the grandest entertainment ever seen in these parts. The public is invited and admission is free.

Father William C. Stewart, who is general chairman, announces the following booths, chairmen and their many helpers. If there are any names omitted, apologies in advance.

A pint of blood can get you a full course dinner.

That's the offer this month to all local residents who will give their blood for the Korean wounded. It is made by Mary Fedorka, manager of the Central Creamery, 6331 Mission Street.

All those who sign up for donating their blood, will be given the free meal at the Creamery, Mrs. Fedorka said.

LAST BOOKIE CASE IN COURT

McArthur Pleads Not Guilty

What promises to be the last of a series of bookie trials here was partially wound up in police court Wednesday.

Alex J. McArthur, 29, a local realtor, pled not guilty to harboring a bookie in his place of business at 6157 Mission street. It was here two self-confessed bookies were arrested last month.

Waving a preliminary trial, McArthur was turned over to superior court where a date of trial is to be set.

No mention was made either by the district attorney or McArthur of another "date" he has with Uncle Sam, October 26. At that time he allegedly is to join the navy.

CARTONS DISAPPEAR FROM LOCAL GARAGE

Some boys may have an odd idea of what constitutes old newspapers.

This puzzle materialized Sunday afternoon when two boys rang the bell at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hernandez, 257 Westlake avenue, and to Mrs. Hernandez' query replied that they would like any old newspapers she had around the place.

Mrs. Hernandez opened the garage doors and told the boys to take the newspapers stacked on top of some cardboard cartons.

The next day, Mr. Hernandez reported to Daly City police that after the boys had gone, not only were the papers gone, but the cartons also. The cartons contained various kinds of glassware and sun glasses. Mrs. Hernandez does not know the identity of the two boys.

Halloween Party Plans Announced

The annual Halloween party for children in the Daly City area is to be held Wednesday evening, October 31, Elman Rose, Daly City director of recreation, announced today.

Actually, there will be six separate parties in as many conveniently located centers of the community. The parties will get underway at 7:30 p.m. and last until 9 p.m. Parades, contests, singing, dancing and prizes for all age groups are to be featured.

This annual event is anticipated with pleasure by the parents in the community, and anticipated with joy by the children of the community. Each year the affair becomes larger as the area becomes more populated and each year the interest becomes more widespread. Primarily under the auspices of the Daly City Recreation department, the production is supported with the able assistance of the local Parent-Teacher organizations and citizens of the area interested in the welfare of children. Representatives of the various schools and their assistants participate actively in making the event an annual success.

Mr. Rose will have as his assistant, Mr. Harry Aronson, elementary school recreational coordinator; Mrs. Ann Eason, decorations and prize chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dennis, refreshment chairman; and Mrs. Wm. Cheatham, publicity chairman.

The following is a list of the party locations, and the chairmen in charge of that group:

Our Lady of Perpetual Help; Mrs. Jean Denning, and Mrs. Ruth Cresta.

At the Peoria Girl Scout House, Mrs. Mary Larson will be in charge.

A Dog's Life

Local Canines Discover "Meat On The Hoof" Is Mighty Tasty

Is there a canine conspiracy against Daly City residents or is the recent series of dog nippings just coincidental?

A victim of a pooch's teeth was Steven Eiden, 10 years old, of 588 Bellevue avenue, who was bitten on the calf of his right leg by a large black and white dog Monday. After the boy's family had taken him to the Junipero Serra hospital for treatment, they reported the attack to the Daly City police.

Officers Beecher contacted the dog's owner, Mrs. Carson, 613 Bellevue avenue, who assured him that the animal would be kept locked up after this.

TWO COUNCIL MEETS SLATED NEXT WEEK

Two meetings of importance will be held by the city council next week.

Monday, at 8 p.m., in City Hall, the council will conduct its regular business meeting.

Tuesday, same time and place, a hearing will be held on the proposed construction of a dog and cat hospital on Junipero Serra and School Streets.

The public is invited to attend both meetings.

Broadmoor Rent Controls Lifted

Rent controls in Broadmoor, and other San Mateo County unincorporated areas, are to be abolished within the next 30 days.

Action to lift controls was taken at the regular meeting of the San Mateo county board of supervisors Tuesday. The board unanimously adopted a resolution declaring rent controls no longer exist in unincorporated county areas.

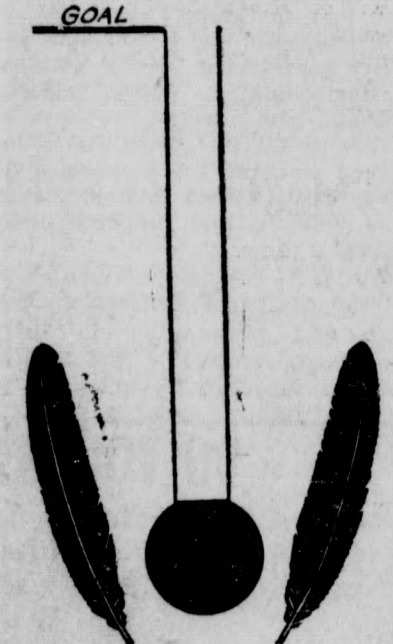

The action will not become official until approved by federal rent control administrator Tighe Woods.

No protests against the action was voiced at the public hearing. Previously controls had been abolished in every San Mateo county city, including Daly City.

However, controls are still on in San Francisco.

THERE WAS HARDLY A RAISE in the thermometer gauging local contributions to the Community Chest this week. Only $990 so far has been given to meet the $9,550 quota.

STEEL SHORTAGE MAY NOT AFFECT ELEM. SCHOOLS

However, High School Building Stymied

Despite a threatened steel shortage for school construction, indications were today construction of new elementary schools will go ahead on schedule.

H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of schools, made this announcement Wednesday after conferring with officials of the Department of Finance in Sacramento.

"The picture looks very hopeful, and I am sure we will be able to work out something."

The superintendent noted the shortage probably would not affect any changes in the building program, as a bid for steel had been made months ago.

However, future plans for a new high school, and additions to Jefferson High School were not so bright.

Superintendent Stanford Hannah, Tuesday, attended a meeting in San Francisco of school officials and officials of the Defense Production Administration.

He said the Washington official asserted all steel contracted before July 1, 1951, would be awarded.

However, plans for remodeling Jefferson High and building a new school have not been submitted, and consequently, no steel priority will be forthcoming for this district.

Dim Future

Hannah noted this might not be too bad, as construction would not have started until the end of 1952, and by that time the steel picture may have changed.

"Still, the future isn't too bright for high school construction," Hannah said.

He added that the PTA official had also punctured a charge by County Superintendent James B. Torney that steel was being allocated by non-defense purposes... and including "glorified saloons."

Hannah said the official explained this was not the case, except where those businesses had put in a claim for steel before July, 1951. He said any future steel allocations would go first for defense production, and second for schools.

LOCAL MAN WOUNDED TWICE IN KOREA

Word was received by Mrs. Donald Lowe, 255 Wyandotte avenue, this week that her husband, Private First Class Lowe has been wounded in action in Korea for the second time since he was flown to the combat zone August 9.

Although the notification stated that Pfc. Lowe was not seriously wounded he was taken to an army air force hospital in Japan. His more recent injuries occurred on September 28. Previously he was wounded on August 30.

Mrs. Lowe, the former Anne Goodson, and Pfc. Lowe became parents on July 8th.

Death On The Highway

Pasadena Man Killed, Four Injured In Head-On-Crash On Junipero Serra

In one of the worse accidents of Daly City's history, a Pasadena man was killed and four others injured Tuesday night on Junipero Serra boulevard.

Killed was Mark Finley Jackson, 45, employee of the Bechtel corporation of San Francisco. He was crushed under the steering wheel of his car when it crashed head on into an automobile driven by John J. Gonsalves, 58, of 75 Miriam Street.

Jackson was pronounced dead on arrival at Junipero Serra hospital. Gonsalves was treated for possible fractures of the ribs and left leg. He also suffered a deep Residents Asked To Pass $180,000 Bond Issue Nov. 6 To Finish Bldg.

Officially opened this week was the campaign to pass the $180,000 bond issue to complete the Community Center Building, Alp and Mission Streets.

The election is to be held November 6, and on its outcome rests the future of the long sought for recreation center.

A two-thirds "yes" vote is required to pass the bond issue, which will supplement the $295,000 bond issue passed two years ago.

Rising cost of materials has forced the city to call for more funds, Mayor Paul Green said.

The building is now partially completed, and the $180,000 will be employed to finish the inside, as well as purchase necessary equipment and supplies.

Examinations

"Anyone who has taken the time to examine the building, which is now 75 per cent complete, will, I think, admit that it is probably the most beautiful and functional community center building on the Pacific Coast," Mayor Green said.

When the initial bond issue was passed two years ago, the $295,000 would have completed the structure, city officials say.

"However, due to tremendous increases in costs, as well as material shortages occasioned by the present state of world affairs... we have not been able to complete the building," the mayor explained.

Taxpayers are now paying 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation to retire the community center building bonds (and a $101,000 bond issue for parks).

More Taxes

The new bond issue, based on the one two years ago, is expected to add an additional four to six cents to the taxpayer's bill.

"On the other hand, if the bond issue isn't passed, residents will be paying 15 cents a year for something they can't use," Councilman Fred Bertetta said today. "It appears to me an additional small sum is more than worth while to finish the needed building."

South City

Fight Develops Over City Mngr.

South San Francisco this week was having a hard time deciding on a new city manager to take the place of Mark Larwood, who retires November 1.

At a special meeting of the city council last week, Emmons McLung, advertising manager for the South City Enterprise, was considered for the position.

However, at the regular city council meeting Monday evening several citizens charged the South City Council with "completely disregarding" recommendations of a council appointed citizen's committee. That committee earlier recommended the new city manager's job be combined with that of city engineer.

Rejection

The city council rejected the proposition, observing the city was too big for one man to handle both jobs.

"You combine the jobs you will either get a good engineer or a good manager, but you can't get both in the same man," Councilman Joe Bracco said.

Solution Use For Center

With Daly City expanding every day, the increased enrollment in the schools and the split session system has hampered the educational system of the city.

Many children are deprived of normal school hours and must attend double sessions. Although there is no noticeable effect at this time, the time will come when these deficiencies will take their toll.

The "Three Rs" cannot be administered hastily, but require a well planned, well developed program.

This crisis, and we can certainly label it a crisis, is no fault of local school officials.

As every citizen realizes, growth has greatly outdistanced development. Recent surveys reveal that the impending situation will grow.

Funds have been appropriated by a special bond issue to construct new schools. The Colma school is partially completed, while the Westlake elementary will be ready for occupancy next month. This will lessen the crisis, but not overcome it.

Plans for three other schools are in the tracing stage, but in the meantime the community suffers.

Two years ago funds for developing the War Memorial Community Center were approved. Accommodations for children in their after school hours were tentatively facilitated, while the problem of where to put children during school hours was overlooked.

As a temporary measure to partially relieve conditions we offer the following suggestion:

We suggest that the city administration and local school authorities investigate every conceivable facet to determine if there is any possible way whereby the Community Center, upon completion, could be used for educational purposes.

When school enrollment normalcy is attained, the Community Center could then be used for its intended purposes. Such an action, if approved, would not solve the problem. But, it would certainly help to alleviate the present conditions.

The community center would serve a dual role, offering some of the children daily educational benefits and offering all children activities in after school hours.

Murder To Be Theme Of Annual Play At Jefferson High This Year

Mystery, in the form of "A Murder Has Been Arranged," is the theme of the fall play to be presented by Jefferson High School on November 15 and 16 in the High School Auditorium.

"A Murder Has Been Arranged" is a unique ghost story based on the legend that if someone is murdered in the St. James Theatre, that person's ghost will walk on the stage of that theatre. Combine this with the fact that one of the characters of the play is about to inherit $5 million and you have an evening of thrills and chills. "A Murder Has Been Arranged" is now in rehearsal under the direction of Miss Eunice Seaton and promises to be one of the most successful plays to have been presented at Jefferson in several years. The cast includes Shirley Raser, Basil Beeson, Ronald Christensen, Frank Garcia, Janice Sproule, Sharon Girard, Shaula Crossen and Adele Hansen. Mr. Moseley will be in charge of the staging. John Cafferata is handling publicity and Mary Alice Coverdale is the student director.

Friend's Concern Helps Local Man

Because a friend was worried about his absence from work, Peter Schneider, 141 Santa Barbara avenue, received timely aid following a heart attack sometime over the past weekend.

He will be at the Junipero Serra hospital for a few weeks from where it is reported he is recovering nicely.

Monday night Daly City police received a call from Mr. Schiffman, 3714 Riviera street, San Francisco, informing them that he was concerned about Schneider because the latter had failed to report for work at the Commercial Club on California street where he is employed as a waiter.

Schiffman was afraid that something might have happened to Schneider who lives alone and consequently might not be able to obtain help in the event of a serious mishap.

Officers Munday and Bastedo went to Schneider's home and discovered the house in darkness, with all the shades drawn and the door locked. A next door neighbor informed them that Schneider had told him that if the shades at his house were drawn all day long it would be an indication that there was something wrong as he, Schneider, was subject to heart attacks.

Police officers gained entrance into Schneider's house through a rear kitchen window. They found Schneider lying on the floor beside his bed with all the bedding pulled over on top of him. He had apparently suffered a heart attack.

Officer Wood took Schneider to the Junipero Serra hospital in the Daly City ambulance.

Spark Plugs Stolen From Local Station

The stealing of boxes of spark plugs from local service stations continues.

Ten boxes of this merchandise were stolen from the Associated Service station at Junipero Serra boulevard and 87th street, last Friday night, according to the report to Daly City police by Jack Winter. The robbery occurred while the attendant was busy.

Blood Bank Representatives Attend Meeting

As representatives of the San Mateo County Blood Bank, Dr. James F. Rinehart, director of the laboratory, and Mrs. P. J. Hanzlik, executive secretary, are enroute today to attend the fourth annual meeting of the National Blood Bank Association to be held October 22, 23 and 24.

Because the Association has a planned an interesting and varied program, most blood banks are sending both a technical and an administrative representative.

Mrs. Hanzlik will be enabled to report that the local blood bank during its nine and one-half years of existence, has drawn 39,996 pints of blood which were donated by 20,139 individual donors, close to an average of two pints per person.

Several of the more modern blood banks, noticeably those in Seattle, Phoenix and Sacramento, have incorporated into their plants many of the features pioneered by the San Mateo County Blood Bank. Now, with a new and larger building looming for the local blood bank, Dr. Rinehart and Mrs. Hanzlik will make a study of the modern ones in the east and will confer along those lines with delegates at the meeting.

Child Welfare Officer Speaks

Oscar Olsen, coordinator of child welfare in Redwood City, addressed the members of the Daly City-Colma Lions Club on the topic of "Lionism" last Wednesday at their weekly luncheon.

Child welfare activities and functions were the theme of Mr. Olsen's speech.

Gilbert O'Shaughnessy, past president of the Lions, introduced two friends from Hawaii, Harold DeMello and Pat Fonseca, who presented Hawaiian selections on the guitar and sang.

Thirty-five members were present.

Fight Develops Over City Mgr.

Both Councilman Elder and Mayor Adolph Sani countered this suggestion, stating the council had confidence in its judgment. He noted three councilmen would be up for re-election in April, which would be a good test of public reaction to their move on the city manager's job.

The council is expected to hold another public meeting tonight, October 18, at which time a city manager probably will be named.

Local Soldier Receives Badge

First Lieut. Dion M. Grahame, husband of Mrs. Patricia Grahame of 821 First avenue, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge, a symbol of close-quarter fighting with the enemy, while serving with the 1st Cavalry Division in Korea.

The badge, consisting of a miniature replica of a Revolutionary War flintlock mounted on a blue background and superimposed on a silver wreath, distinguishes the actual fighting men from rear area and service troops.

Lieut. Grahame is a member of the 1st Cavalry's 5th Regiment.

Tasmania, smallest of the six Australian States, is the second oldest, the first settlers having landed there in 1803.

Moose Day Fete Planned Soon

Mayor Elmer E. Robinson has been named honorary chairman of Moose Day celebrations in San Francisco.

At a large and enthusiastic meeting held recently by the San Francisco Lodge No. 26, Loyal Order of Moose, the city's chief executive was unanimously elected to steer the proceedings November 16, which will welcome 2,500 new candidates into the world wide fraternal order.

Arriving here to witness the gigantic celebrations, in which 10,000 San Francisco Moose families will take part, will be Malcolm Giles, Director General of the organization from the Child City at Mooseheart, Ill. He will be accompanied by Paul Schmitz, Director of Enrollment of the Order.

They will be met in San Francisco by James Ballard from Seattle, Wash., Supreme Governor, and James West, Regional Director, from Los Angeles.

The giant initiatory ceremonies will take place on "Moose Day," November 16, at the Scottish Rite Auditorium at Van Ness and Sutter, during which his Excellency Governor Earl Warren, a very prominent member of the Order in California, will officially welcome the guests on behalf of the Golden State.

In addition to the impressive entrance ceremonies, the famed Moose Amateur Hour, the Bay Area's leading talent show, will be presented under the direction of Roy Lawson.

WHAT WE NEED IS DYNAMITE

Rumors had it last week that a pedestrian was seen lurking around the new signals with a stick of dynamite clenched in his fist.

His avowed purpose was to put an end to the signal problem by blowing the whole d— works to h—. Those were harsh words, but they are sounded, or thought, every day by irate residents. So many are irked by the set-up, that they would gladly offer the man with the dynamite a match to do his work.

Actually, the basic signal system is pretty fair. It is simply that a few quirks have to be worked out... and on something besides paper.

Ever since the system has been installed the state has promised to send out a man with a stop watch and screwdriver to alter a few basic items. So far, our man hasn't left the office in Sacramento, or any other place.

We think the city should use a little "dynamite" of its own to blow some of the red tape out of the state offices, and in the process alter our signals.

IS "DALY CITY" A BAD NAME?

Several readers this week expressed interest in our proposition to put the quest of changing the name of Daly City before the voters in April.

Strongest support for such a move came from individual real-estate men. These agents assert the name, "Daly City," has become a detriment to selling local real-estate. They assert prospective buyers balk at the name of Daly City.

Needless to say, this is a sad state of affairs, and one hardly justified by our town's fine citizens and living conditions.

As we have said before, The Record hardly feels it is in a position to advise anyone on this question. However, we would like to see some one do something, one way or another, about a topic that has been kicked around here for the past 10 years.

COMMUNITY CHEST SONG IS FLAT

It sounded like the same old refrain, but different verses.

Sunday, the Community Chest fund drive opened in Daly City. The goal was, and is $9,550 for the greater Daly City-Colma-Broadmoor area.

Wednesday evening, the song entitled "Public Apathy" was ringing through Daly City. Community Chest workers reported a grand total of $990 had been donated to the Chest. This was only $8,560 short of our goal.

Workers were hopeful the tune might change during the remaining weeks of the campaign.

It seemed fitting at this point to remember the Community Chest is a community endeavor... not just a project of a few leading citizens.

The idea of the Community Chest was born of the need to provide charitable, health and recreational aid and facilities so essential to every city and town. This help can be given only through the contributions of the great majority of citizens.

Many of the services which ease the hardship of unfortunate families, which aid the recovery of the sick and which help to keep youngsters off the streets, are little noticed by the average citizen. But the services are there all the time and the community is better because of them.

If you have any doubt whatever as to the value of the work which the Community Chest makes possible, ask to be shown around some of the institutions receiving Chest support. Your doubts will quickly disappear.

So, give your Community Chest your full moral and financial support.

STEEL THREATENS TO STEAL EDUCATION

As if double sessions were not enough, the government last week clamped down on future school building here, and throughout the nation.

Top government officials assert there is a shortage of steel which will mean a cut back in any school construction for at least a year.

Fortunately, indications this week were that steel for the elementary school building program would not be delayed. Nevertheless, it will do well for every resident to keep a sharp eye on this situation, and see the steel doesn't dead-head in a mass of red tape.

As for future building plans at the high school, the picture is black. So black, in fact, that any plans for a new school are going to have to be shelved for at least a year.

The government asserts the steel shortage is accounted for by the increased defense program. On the other hand, certain school officials claim the shortage is exaggerated, and steel is going for the construction of such luxuries as bars and theatres.

Amid these charges and counter-charges, it would be well for local residents to keep close tab on action of their elected representatives in Washington. These are the men, after all, who will have the final say as to where steel goes.

The importance of this emergency can not be over exaggerated. As Daly City's population grows, more and more schools are needed. Should building be halted, the education system, here, would be in great danger of decay and collapse. For we defy anyone to tell us a child can receive the education he requires on double sessions.

HALLOWEEN PARTIES WELCOMED HERE

We notice down in Millbrae the elementary school board has taken action to guard schools against Halloween vandalism.

The board proposes to give the janitors a little more money to stand watch over the school Halloween night.

We are relatively certain no such action will be taken in Daly City, and not because the kids at this end of the county are any different.

No, up here we have a Recreation Department functioning to keep the children's minds and hands busy during Halloween. The Department has worked out a number of parties which will eliminate most of the danger of youngsters smashing school, or private property.

These Halloween parties are annual affairs, staged by the Recreation Department with the assistance of private organizations and individuals. In fact, they are such a part of Daly City life that many people simply take them for granted.

We think the item from Millbrae will shake the complacency of those who for years have not had to worry about Halloween pranks.

Residents should be eternally grateful to their Recreation Department for keeping the fun in Halloween, and at the same time eliminating the danger and damage.

County School Board Discusses New Problems

The San Mateo County Board of Education at its meeting October 10 was confronted with not one, but three problems of a sort not presented to the Board in the last twelve years.

Three requests were made by parents for action of the County Board to permit their children to attend schools in neighboring districts in the absence of an agreement between the districts.

Two of the cases involved children living in La Honda who would normally go to Pescadero High School and where the parents were requesting admission of their children to Sequoia High School. The other case involved two children in Tunis on the coastside where the request was for attendance at the elementary school in Half Moon Bay. Action on the two cases was deferred to the next meeting of the Board on October 24 in order to permit the gathering of further information.

Further action of the County Board included a discussion of the legality of collection of charitable funds from or through school children with the decision to include the question on the agenda of the meeting of the school administrators of the county on November 14.

The meeting was presided over by Chairman pro-tem Richard Crane of Daly City in the absence of the Chairman, Mrs. J. M. Foley of San Mateo. Members present were Andrew Spinas of Redwood City, George White of Burlingame, and County Superintendent of Schools James R. Torney.

Boy Returns Home Alone From Shopping Trip

While he was out shopping with mother, five-year old Bobby McLeon, 20 Miriam street, suddenly changed his plans without notice, last Thursday afternoon.

His mother, Mrs. Duncan McLeod reported him lost to Daly City police only to discover somewhat later that he had returned home by himself.

Raisin grapes comprise nearly 60 per cent of California's total grape output.

CAGED... A group of west Berlin youngsters look on as workmen in the American sector of Berlin go about erecting a wooden cage around the huge Soviet war memorial. The memorial erected by the Reds in 1945 has infuriated west Berliners, and the cage will save it from further attacks. The Soviets have been asked to remove it but have refused.

Citizen's Poll

Residents Favor Bond Issue

Residents are generally in favor of the proposed second bond issue to complete the Community Center Building.

That was the consensus of a poll taken by The Record this week, and bore out the opinions of a similar poll last month.

Following are the answers to the questions, "Are you in favor of the $180,000 bond issue to complete the Community Center Building?"

Mrs. Frank Sanz, 593 Bellevue Avenue, voiced an opinion similar to that of many other persons questioned. She stated, she thought the project should be completed because it would benefit all citizens of Daly City.

Mrs. Carl E. Langdren, 283 Irvington street, said, "I was opposed to the community center originally, because we need schools so badly. Naturally it should be completed rather than leave it in the present condition."

Mrs. C. A. Wood, 35 Hillcrest drive, said, "I would like to know why the original proposed cost was not enough to complete the Community Center. The idea of a community center is wonderful, but why should the citizens pay for someone else's mistakes."

Mrs. K. W. Ryan, 323 Whittier Street, said, "It sounds like a large sum of money. Naturally, it would be better to finish the Community center, than to allow it to stand with no one obtaining any use from it."

Mrs. Earl W. Smith, 8 Partridge Lane, said, "Naturally, I am in favor of completing the project. We should have a place for our children to go, and know where they are. Also, with the children occupied with activities afforded by the Community Center, there might be less juvenile delinquency."

Mrs. James Hudson, 221 Peoria avenue, stated that it would be a wonderful place for the children, and offer them many fine activities.

Mrs. M. R. Court, 241 Los Olivos avenue, stated, "Boys and girls need a place like the community center."

Mrs. Carol Freeland, 156 Irvington avenue, said, "A lot of money has been wasted. It should have been built without fiddling around. In the meantime prices have risen and now we need more money to complete the project. Probably by the time the present bond issue, if passed, takes affect, prices will have gone up again."

Mrs. Hattie R. Spillane, 701 Hanover, said that too much time and money had been wasted. She said, "I am all in favor of the community center, but I am opposed to the way things were done."

Mrs. Wayne Carr, 531 Hillside Blvd., said, "I think the voters should pass the $180,000 bond issue next month. The Community Center is of no use to the citizens in the present condition."

Mrs. Martin Berlin, 458 Citrus avenue stated, "The Community Center should be completed. It would be a shame to have the building lay idle."

Mrs. Germaine Daniels, 244 Citrus avenue, said, "I am in favor of all improvements for Daly City. Voters should approve it, because it is a very worthwhile project for the people in general."

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

"It is, like you say, they don't know how to play the game."

This verbatim comment was forthcoming last week from a bemused, balded Frenchman who is now a student at the University of California in Berkeley.

He was referring to the American woman.

We met the dashing romantic while balancing our young son on one arm and clutching a package of salami in the other, meanwhile doing our best to keep our feet in a bus. Consequently, our report of the Frenchman's impressions is purely academic.

Fleeing Woman

The conversation started when a buxom blonde almost floored the salami in a mad dash to escape the roving hands of the aforesaid described gentleman. With a philosophical shrug, and a last fleeting intense look at the blonde's legs, the Frenchman hooked onto a bus strap and addressed himself to us. Following is the monolog, minus certain phrases peculiar only to France.

"Ahh me. I have done nothing all wrong again," he sighed. "It is, like you say, they don't know how to play the game."

We asked him what game.

Best Game

"Love, of course. American women are so suspicious, so crass, so barbaric, so everything, but what they should be. That girl, (nice, yes), I sit down with her on the bus seat. I first lean over to open the window. She helps, her hand touches mine. She smiles. I ask you, is this not love?"

Before we could answer, he gave a disgusted "phaff," and dashed breathlessly on.

"I talk to the girl. She answers. We talk five, maybe ten minutes; about nothing, about everything. I am so happy to find a girl. I reach over for her hand. That is all, I simply reach for her hand. Phaff, she jumps up like a frightened rabbit. What is wrong? I tell you."

Definition

"American women do not know the meaning of love. They are conditioned wrong. In my country when one talks to a girl, they end by going out together. Later, she willing..."

"Everyone here is cold, narrow minded. Yesterday, I hint to a girl I like her very much. She is insulted. My hint, it is wrong words? Yes."

"So, every girl I talk to, same thing... nothing. Why they just don't say 'no'? No, they insulted."

Good Story

"Yesterday, the students meet for lunch. I tell them funny story, very funny story. No one laughs. The girls look coy. Phaff, no one understands real humor."

"In France a woman is a woman. Here, they are playing at the game, and they play badly."

"When I first see all these advertisements about perfume, soap, I think it will be good. But they are nothing but words, none of the women pay any attention to what they really mean."

"Love is a game, the finest game in the world. Here, the women don't understand the rules. Here, it is nothing but pursuit, with nothing at the end but marriage."

"Phaff, American women."

At this point we excused ourselves, and got off the bus. The last we saw of our friend he was still talking, only this time to a pocket edition of Betty Grable that had taken our place.

There seems to be moral here, but where?

Former Mayor Questions Wisdom Of Completing Center At This Time

October 18, 1951

Editor
The Record
Daly City, California

Dear Sir:

The question you asked, "Are you in favor of or against the coming bond election for $180,000 to finish the partly constructed Memorial Building?" prompted me to check back over the history of the project before answering.

After so doing I wish to point out a few facts and offer some comments.

1.—The greater portion of the property and the part upon which the building is being constructed was purchased by the city in July, 1946, over five year ago.

The Mayor, in making excuses for the delay said, as quoted in your paper, "As the Council is a public body it must act slowly."

"Had it been a private owner the building would have been up much sooner." No doubt the Council acted slowly, but why must a Council act so slowly as to allow five years to elapse and yet no completed building? No excuses can satisfy me for this long delay which has resulted in a loss of probably over $100,000 thousand to the taxpayers.

Study Disregarded

2.—The City Council of five years ago had consulted a prominent and state-wide known architect and he had drawn up tentative plans. With a change in the City Council that study and work was discarded and a new architect employed.

Why was that done, especially in view of the fact that the new architect employed evidently already had more work than he could do promptly, if we are to judge by the present situation in our school program for which he is the architect, and for which there was nearly a million dollars available several years ago?

3.—Bonds were voted in 1949 and plans were eventually drawn from a memorial building.

Bad Guess

We must assume that this building was estimated to cost not more than the amount of the bond issue, but when bids were asked for, the lowest bid, as I remember it, was over $100,000 more than the amount of money available. It seems incredible that an architect with experience in drawing plans for and estimating the cost of public buildings could make such a bad guess, as guess it surely must have been.

4.—For the reason that there was not enough money by over $100,000 to go ahead and let the contract, the plans were said to be revised and new bids were asked for.

I was led to believe, and no doubt many more were, that the new bids would be for a building at least complete enough to be used as that was the impression left by our Mayor, when, as quoted in your paper, he said, "We are going to build the Memorial Building even though we have been forced to cut down on some of the fancy and less essential items originally called for. The building will have the same area as originally called for but cuts will be made in elaborate lighting and heating arrangements and we will do the landscaping and furnishing out of general revenue to bolster the limited funds available from the 1949 bond issue."

Again he said, "The plans are being revised so that eventually the building will be exactly as originally planned, with the city adding less essential features from current revenues from time to time after the main structure is completed."

Again he said, "Certain 'luxury' features have been eliminated."

It looks as though someone was kidding us and saying to himself, "If we can only get the building under way no one can then refuse to vote more money to finish it."

5.—We now have only a partly completed building and apparently need $180,000 to complete it.

In my opinion the grotesque and unorthodox edifice we now see tells the story of why the money voted was not enough to build it. A building of that type seems to me to be entirely out of place in its surroundings, and one in which the heating, upkeep, etc., will be very expensive. It is the subject of much ridicule by reason of the type of construction, including the entrance ramp which has been likened to the old fashioned drive-ways for upper floors in the lively stables of 50 years ago. It would indeed be interesting to know how many thousands of dollars that type of entrance ramp added to the cost of the building.

More Money

6.—Now we are asked to vote another $180,000.

This will mean that the building estimated to cost less than $300,000 and for which bids were received for about $400,000 will now cost almost half a million. Personally, as a resident of this community, I feel that I have been made a party to a "come-on" game. I will not be here election day, but I am afraid that if I were, the history of this project and the atmosphere surrounding it (all of which tells me so much of the story behind the story and which leaves me without confidence in our city administration) would prompt me to vote "NO" for the first time on a bond issue in this community.

Letting the unfinished building stand as it is for the time being might cause it to become a thought-provoking monument to what it represents and cause our citizens to take more interest in our government to the end that it may some day be conducted in a less-political and more efficient, economical and business-like manner.

Very truly yours,
H. H. SMITH

Local Resident Stands In Favor Of Changing Name Of Daly City

Dear Sir:

I'd like to make known my wishes for changing the name of Daly City to Vista Grande.

I think the new name could do much for the district, so if my signature can be used to get this proposition on the ballot, then do so.

Help Your Child To Meet Santa Claus; Support The Broadmoor Vets Dance

The American Legion Post 824, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9621, and their Auxiliaries are going ahead with their plans for Santa's appearance this coming Christmas.

In order to bring old St. Nick to this community, the combined efforts of the two Posts and their Auxiliaries have been consolidated into a single unit for the purpose of bringing a bit of happiness and cheer to the children of the villages and surrounding areas.

This all takes a bit of money, and the only way that seems to be successful and also gives the people who participate a chance to have an entertaining evening, is to hold a Benefit Dance.

Tickets were printed, the Ladies set up a booth in Kings Market, and the members of the Posts have been going from door-to-door asking the residents to participate in this affair. The sale of tickets to date have been very slow. It is expected that the sales will go much faster as the time draws near for the dance on October 20.

Arrangements have been made to have Tony Martin's Orchestra play, and plans have been made to secure some of the finest local talent in the county.

The big question is, "Will YOU help us?" The joint committees have arranged for direct delivery of tickets to your home by mailing a post card to the treasurer, Mr. Robert Goodwin, 1740 Louvain Drive, Colma, or a telephone call to Ray Logan at PLaza 5-4556 and upon receipt of your request, tickets will be delivered to you at once.

The Ladies of the Auxiliaries ask you to help support this cause as you have helped in the past. The years before, we had a grand time with old St. Nick.

Support your American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts and purchase your tickets today.

High School PTA Chairmen Are Ratified At October Meeting

Using the fiesta theme, the Women's Association of the Community Presbyterian Church of Broadmoor has planned a bazaar for the evenings of November 8th and 9th at the church, on 87th street, two blocks west of Junipero Serra.

Miss Emma Tomlinson is general chairman of the event to which the public is cordially invited.

An a-la carte supper will be served in the annex to all who wish it. Mrs. John Flies will be hostess in the food concession.

There will be many gayly decorated booths, each one holding a treat in store. The Doll Booth will be operated by Mrs. Carlos Mattson and the White Elephant Booth by Mrs. John LePine. Mrs. Donald Watson is in charge of the Handwork Booth. A Parcel Post Booth, featuring surprise gift packages from far-away places will be the charge of Mrs. Trevor Jones.

Mrs. Henry Huber will have the Garden Booth and Mrs. Lamont Sundman the Christmas Booth. A Wishing Well to attract the children will be operated by Mrs. Vic Guz.

There will be handwriting and card reading experts to tell your fortune. Also the men of the church have planned a booth, the nature of which they have not yet revealed. The Sunday School will operate a booth, as well.

An unusual feature of the Bazaar is the offering of ladies' skirts, made to order of lovely materials brought from Mexico by Mrs. Margaret Pauline Brown. Since these are made to individual measurements, they are subject to prior sale and orders must be placed previously in order to obtain one. Mrs. Marvin Howard, a designer and dressmaker of note, will make the skirts and arrangements may be made by calling her at PL 5-6437.

Proceeds from the Bazaar will aid the building fund for the new church.

Police Rush Emergency Help To Local Woman

Mrs. Louise Accinelli, 119 Station avenue, received emergency aid from Daly City police Saturday when she suffered a heart attack.

Window Dedication Set For Sunday

At Bethel Lutheran Church, Alemany Boulevard and Huron Avenue, three memorial windows will be dedicated in the morning worship next Sunday, at 10:45 o'clock.

The Reverend Herbert P. Schroeder will deliver the sermon.

Two stained glass windows are placed in the nave of the Church. On the Epistle side is the scene of Jarius, the ruler of the synagogue, beseeching Christ to come and heal his daughter, with the theme "Only Believe." The phoenix rising from the flames, is the symbol of the victory over death.

On the Gospel side is the scene which portrays Christ and the Rich Young Ruler with the theme "Take up the Cross and Follow Me." The crown and the cross in the balance of the scale is the symbol of the ultimate victory of faith in Christ.

The third window, placed in the narthex of the church, portrays the standard of the Church with the Cross and symbols of the Christian faith.

The windows were designed and installed by Cummings Stained Glass Studios in San Francisco.

Moose Whist Party Scheduled To Aid Children

The Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 739, will give a Whist Party at the Odd Fellows Hall, 26 Seventh St., Tuesday evening, November 13.

Festivities will start promptly at 8:30 p.m.

The party will be under the management of Mrs. Irene Library and her Ways and Means Committee and is another step toward raising funds to carry on their philanthropic work caring for the children at Mooseheart, Illinois, and aiding the aged ones at Moosehaven in Orange City, Florida.

Mooseheart is a very beautifully landscaped community of children and situated just outside of Aurora, Illinois. It is more commonly known as the Child City because basically that is just what it is. A well organized community where each child is raised to his own calling. Educated academically, and socially, a child is well equipped to face the world when he reaches the age of maturity. The Moose provide all necessities: Food, shelter, medicine, etc., and in the Educational field a child is allowed to study as long as he shows aptitude for the chosen field.

While actually only responsible to the child until he is eighteen years of age, the Moose will see to all expenses for further education. Thus from this beginning Doctors, Lawyers, Engineers, Teachers, and many other professionals are born.

Moosehaven, a quiet little community situated at Orange City, Florida, just outside of Jacksonville, the aged Moose are living out the last years of their lives. They are congregated and live together in mutual accord. The families have individual bungalows and carry on their usual home life with the advantage of not having to worry about rent, gas and lights, doctors, etc. Each of them have their jobs if they so desire and are physically able to perform them. They receive a small allowance for the small chores that they do, for instance being a mailman, gardener, storekeeper, and so on. These small salaries provide for the little necessities of life.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

Every once in a while a job of housecleaning comes up that isn't work at all, but a lot of fun—like this afternoon spent going through old school yearbooks, term papers, report cards and photographs.

Of course, I weeded out and straightened in the privacy of my room because Time DOES march on and you may be sure I will not tell you everything! Just enough to tempt you to do the same—

Do you remember the marks you received from your sixth grade teacher? I didn't either until the darned thing popped up, mother's signature and all, with, from my present "motherly" vantage point, a preponderance of B's. "Must be some other Jane" I muttered, putting on the bottom of the pile and away from daughter Barbara's prying eyes? I was always an A student!

Year Books
Junior High school year books came next with all the class prophecies leaving me in the poet's corner—and the class pictures showing me in dire need of a girdle. The girdle part, by the way, has been attended to, but the poetry? Me, I write Dear Parents, school excuses and my name!

A term paper for Anthropology held me spellbound for quite some time. There was a nice blue pencil A on the front cover and a hole punched through the center. All those nice watercolor sketches of artifacts (see how learning comes back to one—even after years of disuse? Just ruined by a mean section leader who didn't want them passed on for next years use. "I must be cruel only to be kind" said one of Shakespeare's characters, but why do so many teachers have to follow his footsteps?

Xmas Cards
There were a lot of old and new Christmas cards in the pile too, which sort of took the fun out of the afternoon in spite of Christmas being the season of "Peace on Earth, good will towards men"—they say—but I didn't throw them out! Not I! Just yesterday a telegram came announcing the return of one of my nephews from Korea and a letter from him hoping for a "Merry Christmas."

Put his letter in the box and the box on the shelf with the rest of the past and tonight and every night pray for "Peace on earth, good will towards men"—in the very near future!

Christmas Dolls Are Fun To Make

Children love soft, cuddly dolls—the kind they can drag around, throw around, even smash, without breaking. If such an item is on your list for Christmas, why not make it yourself? Start now, because the time is shorter than you think. Make it of cotton chambray, or sheeting, or left-over dress material which can be washed with other items in the family laundry, says Winifred S. Carter, who directs the Household Information Service for Procter & Gamble. Then it will be no problem for Mothers to keep the toys clean.

Use a pattern, or make up your own. As long as the doll has a head, arms, and legs, it will make some child happy. But for your own fun and satisfaction, you'll give it a face, hair, and clothes. Mouths and eyes can be embroidered or painted with fabric paint, and if yarn hair is sewed directly into the scalp, it will prevent the doll from becoming bald when it is dragged cave-man fashion. Be original about hair color. Left-over yarn of blue, green, purple, as well as yellow and brown, makes very acceptable hair, adds fun to the appearance of the doll and fancy to the child's imagination.

Mrs. Carter advises washing cloth toys in warm water and a gentle soap or detergent like Ivory or Dreft. If you add them to the family laundry, tie the dolls or the toys in a pillow case before putting them in the washer. (ANS)

Good Escape?

WHEN HER MARRIAGE runs into difficulties, what a welcome—what a miraculous escape—divorce seems to offer a woman!

Anything—anything to get away from circumstances that have become unendurable. Once free from Len, his wife thinks everything else will fall into place. The children—oh, they'll be all right! They won't hear any more quarreling, anyway. Money? Well, certainly if Patsy gets her divorce and the custody of the children, Len will have to pay a good fair alimony.

All this sounds like escape. Escape into peace and quiet and change and novelty and freedom and a chance to live her own life. It sounds like the thing we all want.

A New Romance

And when a new love, a new romance adds itself to this—oh, there's no use arguing with any woman then! Her family? They don't matter. Her children? Why, they'll be better off! Money? She'll agree to anything, with Phil's big strong arm about her. And his child? That little girl of 4, whose mother has married again and gone off to live in Buenos Aires. What about her?

"... a new love ..."

Little Shirley? Why, she's a perfect darling, and she'll live with Phil and Patsy, and Patsy's little boy and girl, why not?

"We knew we can't ever quarrel because we absolutely think alike about everything," said a woman of 34 to me, anticipating her third marriage. She went into it with a simple little problem that involved her temperamental, resentful 12-year-old boy, her first husband's claim on the boy, his mother's hostility, her second husband's claim on her younger boy, then aged 3, and the idol of her heart, her third husband's daughter of 16 by an earlier marriage, his brother's bitter antagonism and determination to get guardianship of the child, a dispute concerning some property settlements after the first marriage, and the fact that her autocratic and troublesome old father insisted on living with her, and had considerable property to leave either to her or to a home for superfluous old girls.

And into this bedlam this woman launched herself lightly and with the assurance that she and Peter never could quarrel because they thought alike about everything. This marriage lasted almost four years, at which time there was another child, a small delicate girl with a serious eye deficiency, to consider.

This morning I have on my desk a letter from a woman named Emmarie Schmidt. She and her first husband Dan reached the parting of the ways nine years ago; Emmarie immediately married Ward Schmidt, and took over Ward's adorable son, 3 years old. This boy, 12 now, is "a completely unmanageable little fiend," according to Emmarie.

Won't Allow Discipline

"No boarding school will keep him because Ward don't allow any discipline," she writes me. "Junior is disobedient, untruthful and he steals. Yes, he does. No money is safe in the house, and his school mates' parents are always telephoning me about cameras, knives, even bicycles. He sold another boy's bicycle for $13 last year; twice we have had the police here. Other children have been avoiding him for some years, he is morally delinquent, and whether he will ever be anything else is a question. I feel that I simply cannot face the long years before he leaves our custody. His mother has not seen him, except for an occasional luncheon or matinee, for years. She now has three other children; I have none.

"My husband is a splendid man, we have plenty of money and a fine life—except for this boy. Ward is devoted to him, argues, explains, pleads, gets him out of any and every predicament. He says that if Junior has enough money he won't need to steal, so Junior gets everything he asks for."

"Ward and I had a delightful engagement for this week end; instead, at the last moment, he has taken Junior and another boy on a fishing trip. He got them expensive equipment of rods, reels, tent, coats and all the rest of it. And this for a boy who has always resented our marriage and been a deliberate trouble maker!

"I have been in difficult circumstances before this, but I never have felt myself so helpless and futile. You would make a great impression on my husband if you could honestly advise him."

Touching The Stars; Three Of Them

by Ridgely Cummings

Until fairly recently I got a big kick out of sitting down and writing these essays on any subject that happened to be near the top of my mind. I wrote with equal freedom about astronomy, the state of my digestion, and what Mrs. Jones, my next door neighbor, said to the milkman when he surprised her in the embrace of Mr. Smith, the fuller brush salesman.

Then one day I learned that a paper in Havana was billing these pieces as "exclusive reports by our Hollywood correspondent" and shortly thereafter a neighborhood paper in San Francisco began slugging the weekly columns "Hollywood Beat."

Although this was pleasing to my ego it brought along concomitant responsibilities. If I had evolved into a Hollywood reporter then, it seemed to me, the least I could do would be to write occasionally about movie stars and studio happenings.

Gossip

The trouble was that in the course of my usual activities I didn't meet many movie stars. Nor did I feel justified in passing on gossip about people I had never seen in the flesh.

So each week as I sat down to write and cast about for a subject I began developing an inferiority complex because I couldn't honestly report on lunching with Kirk Douglas and dancing with Shelly Winters.

This week is an exception. Drag out the 72-point type, gentlemen of the makeup table, for I am about to render (and I don't mean tear apart) an exclusive report on three genuine, 18-carat movie personalities.

Their names are Edward Arnold, Lex Barker and Arleen Dahl.

We can get rid of the latter two rather quickly for my contact with them was brief. I was sitting in the luxury of a Sunset Strip office, reading Daily Variety and smoking a cigarette, when Miss Dahl and Mr. Barker emerged from a door which I was waiting to enter.

It was a hot day. Miss Dahl was wearing a thin print dress which did justice to her shapely figure, a broad-brimmed picture hat and a pair of gloves that crept up towards her elbows.

Well Dressed

Lex Barker, who plays Tarzan on the screen and who has been Miss Dahl's husband for the past few months, was tastefully attired in a pair of weather-beaten slacks and a blue polo shirt that showed his bulging muscles. Barker's blond hair was worn long but not so long as Johnny Weissmuller's used to be when he played the role of the jungle athlete.

Of the two, Barker had the more impressive personality. He had very little to say, speaking only in monosyllables of yes, no, and all right, but he said them forcefully and unsmilingly. Miss Dahl on the contrary was all smiles and spoke charmingly. In a very few minutes they departed for Beverly Hills and out of my life.

My association with Edward Arnold was more prolonged. He did the narration for a documentary film in a studio where I happened to be hovering about as a fetcher of glasses of water and a suggester of doubtful improvements in scripts.

Awed

When he appeared everyone else seemed to be awed so, in an attempt to create an easy atmosphere, I remarked to Arnold that I had been tremendously impressed several years ago by his performance on a radio program in which he played the part of a President of the U.S.—President Andrew Jackson I thought it was. Arnold laughed he deep, rich chuckle, a trade mark with him. "Several years ago?" he asked. Yes, I said, but it remained fresh in my memory.

"It's people like you who keep us actors from getting a swelled head," he laughed. "The Mr. President series is still on the air every week."

That set the right tone for our interview. It wasn't really an interview but rather a conversation, and during the next few hours I learned some facts about Mr. Arnold which seem worth passing on.

Currently he is acting with Myrna Loy in a technicolor sequel to "Cheaper by the Dozen." He plays the love interest in Miss Loy's life, necessitated by the killing off of Clifton Webb by a scenario writer in the early picture.

Miss Loy is married to a state department diplomat and her heart is now with United Nations but she is a pleasure to work with, he said. She's a good dancer too, as he could testify because he had had to dance a Viennese waltz with her the previous day. The film, if I remember correctly, will be called "Bells On Their Fingers." Or maybe Toes.

Bachelor

Arnold was looking well and had taken off some weight since I had last seen him in a movie. He was living in a bachelor bungalow near Hollywood Boulevard and doing his cooking, pending his marriage next month to a sociologist from Detroit. He has to be careful about his diet because of a slight heart attack which he said he suffered six months ago.

During the various pauses in making the sound track we chatted about the films in which he had appeared. I spoke of Diamond Jim Brady as being one of my favorites and Arnold said it was a favorite of his too.

The real Diamond Jim, he said, died in 1917. Before his death he was operated on in John's Hopkins hospital in Baltimore by a Dr. Young, an eminent specialist.

When "Diamond Jim" was released Arnold made a personal appearance with the movie in Baltimore and was taken out to the hospital to meet Dr. Young. He was telling me an anecdote about the visit that probably was amusing, for he laughed as he remembered it. But before he reached the point of the story the sound engineers put on a play-back of his voice and the tale was interrupted. I never got to hear the rest of it because later we discussed the role of writers in the cinema, a subject of deep pecuniary interest to me.

I feel grateful to Edward Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. Tarzan for providing me with first-hand material. They have rehabilitated me as a Hollywood columnist and now for the next few weeks I can safely scribble away about more mundane characters.

Grand National Show Prepares For Ten Day Run At The Cow Palace

With Grand National time here again, San Francisco is readying the welcome mat for several thousand exhibitors and participants of the Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo, which begins at a ten day run at the Cow Palace next Friday, October 26.

Innovations planned for this year's show include "Roundup on the Range," a prologue which replaces the traditional rodeo grand entrance. Written by Fred Gray and J. Fenton McKenna, it will feature Dude Martin and his Roundup Gang.

Another spectacular event will be the Wild Horse Stampede. In the new rodeo event, appearing for the first time on the Pacific Coast, 50 wild charging untamed and "naked" mustangs are turned into the arena at one time. Cowboy contestants attempt to catch and ride the mustangs without the aid of any gear whatever.

The Boom Town Quadrille from Burkburnett, Texas, round out the feature presentations of the show. A group of 18 riders on perfectly matched horses perform almost unbelievable square dances. This act is reported to be a great crowd pleaser in the Southwest.

The traditional national full-division horsemanship, Championship Finals of the International Rodeo Association, and National Cutters Association World Championship finals will complete the arena show.

Included in the rodeo finals is saddle and bareback bronc riding, calf roping, steer bulldogging, and Brahma Bull Riding.

The arena show will take place nightly throughout the ten day run with Matinees scheduled for Saturdays and Sundays, October 27 and 28, November 3 and 4.

A total of $92,924 in livestock premiums has lured a record number of entries in the swine, sheep, and cattle divisions.

Highlight of the beef cattle section this year will be the Golden Gate National Hereford Show and Sale, and the Pacific Coast Aberdeen Angus Association's Sale.

How to make good telephone service even better....

Give your friends time to answer

How often have you had someone hang up just as you answered the telephone? It isn't always possible, you know, to get to the telephone the moment it rings—the folks you are calling may be out enjoying their garden, or busy in some distant part of the house. You'll reach them more often... and avoid the disappointment of an incomplete call if you give them a full minute to answer.

faster Long Distance service is yours, if you give the operator the out-of-town telephone number, rather than just the name and address of the party you are calling. You'll not only save your time... but calling by number means better service for everyone, especially now when long distance lines are carrying so many urgent industrial and military calls.

Cereghino Departs With O'Doul Troup

Following an interrupted take off, in which Frank "Lefty" O'Doul's party was forced to return to San Francisco, Ed Cereghino, local baseball star, along with some of the greatest names in baseball, finally departed for a month tour of Japan this week.

Minor mechanical difficulties forced return of the groups original departure.

Cereghino will make a month baseball tour of Japan with great major leaguers like Joe and Dom DiMaggio, Ferris Fain, American League batting champion, Ed Lopat, Yankee two-game World Series winner, and others.

The troupe will play exhibition games against leading Japanese professional and college clubs.

Also included on the roster are: major leaguers: Bill Werle, Bob Shantz, Mel Parnell, George Strickland, Billy Martin, and Joe Tipton and minor league players.

Jefferson Jayvees Lead PAL League

Coach Joe McGrath's frosh-soph football squad, currently riding on a two game win skein, holds the top position in the PAL junior varsity league.

The junior Indians gained victories over Burlingame and Palo Alto, 12-6 and 12-0 respectively, on the past two Thursdays.

While the Indians have not shown any exceptional power through the air, a good running attack and strong defense has tagged them as one of the strongest teams in the Junior loop.

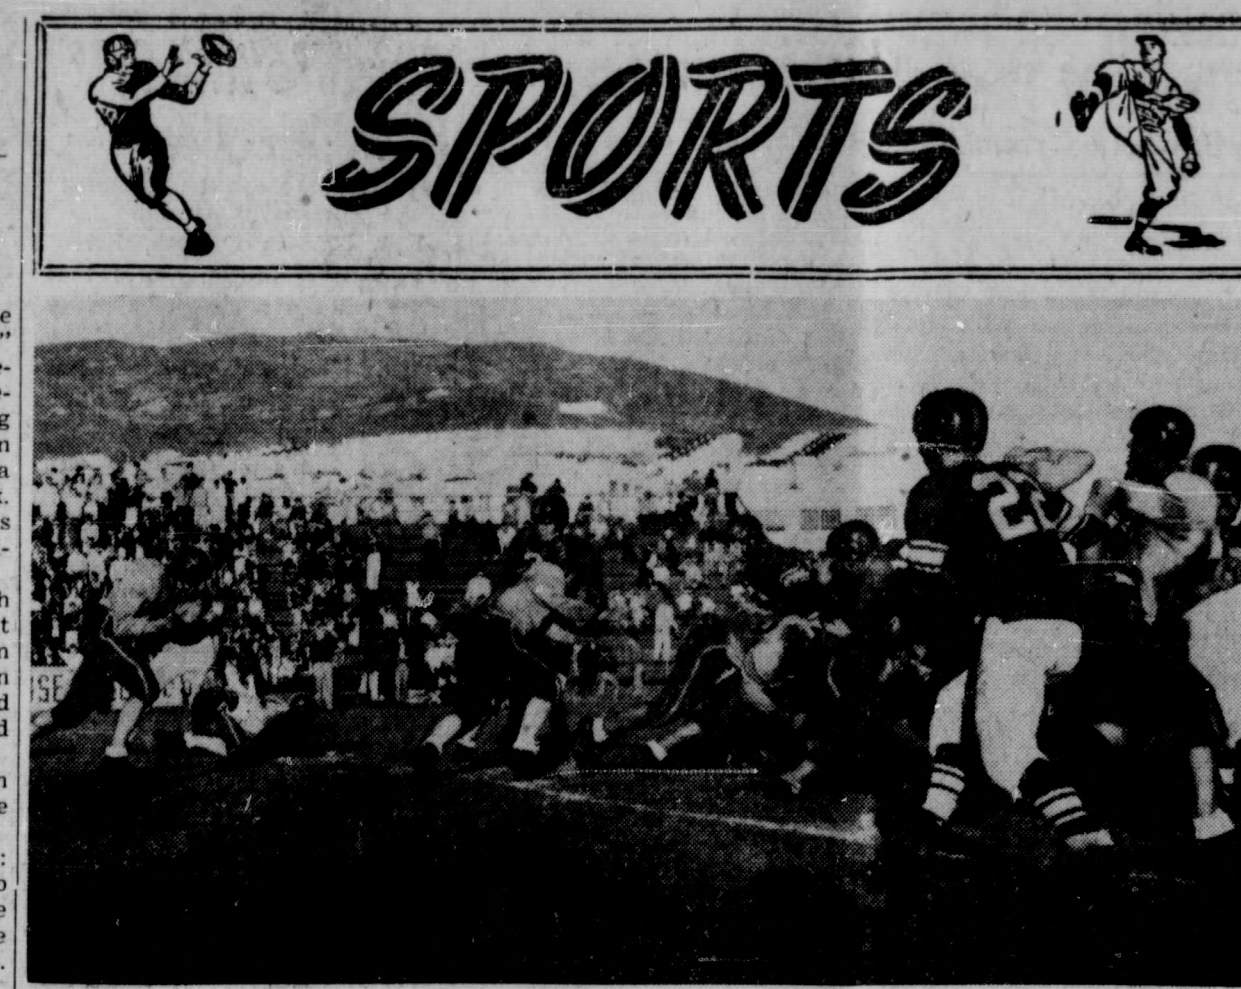

Omar Grimes is the leading ground gainer and scorer having scored one tally in each of the two games. Grimes, left half, also handles the passing assignments.

Kingspins in the line are Joe Ernschaw, tackle; Don Del Bon, end; Dan Bertelli, end; Vic Irons, end; and Jack Thur. McGrath's team has the strength in the forward wall, which was well displayed against Burlingame, the opponents gaining a net 40 yards on the ground.

Rounding out the backfield are John Geerstein, qb, Ed Gallagher, fb, and Del Haman, rh.

PLAYING THE PERCENTAGES

It's all right to play the percentages when you're at the race track betting on the horses but don't play the percentages when you drive. The California State Automobile Association warns that too many drivers assume that all other motorists will do the right thing most of the time but accident reports prove this to be wrong.

Touch Football League Colma "A" and "B" Teams Tounce Our Lady Of Perpetual Help Boys

By HARRY ARONSON
Coordinator of Athletics

The Colma P.M. "B" team served notice that they are going to be tough to beat after touncing the Perpetual Help "B" team, 40 to 6 last Saturday, October 13, at Marchbanks Park.

Taking the opening kickoff, Andy Ruelas, Colma scat back, raced 50 yards to rack up six points for his side. Not to be outdone, Jackie Bautista, P.H. speedster, gathered in the return kickoff from Colma and outsped the Colma secondary in a thrilling 65 yard dash to the end zone to knot the score at 6 to 6.

The rest of the game was highlighted by the sparkling performance of Daryl Hall, tricky runner and passer for the Colma team. He passed to Charlie Thur for 15 yards and another Colma score. In the second period, Hall skirted his own left end to add another tally, and also passed to Thur for the extra point. The score at half time was 19 to 6 in favor of Colma.

Scores Again

In the third period Hall again scored from ten yards out and then added the extra point on a dash around right end. With Andy Ruelas playing heads up ball after recovering a kickoff fumble by P.H., Daryl Hall scooted 20 yards to score his third T.D. He again ran over for the extra point. The score at the end of the third period was 33 to 6.

The lone tally in the fourth period resulted in another score by Hall when he returned a P.H. punt 25 yards into the end zone. He climaxed a brilliant afternoon by passing to Ray Del Pape for the extra point.

"A" Team Game

The game between the Colma P.M. "A" and the Perpetual Help "A" teams ended with a victory for the Colma boys by a count of 26 to 6. The Colma team led by Jerry Gruenwald, held a 19 to 0 lead at the half way mark.

In the first period Gruenwald passed to Captain Bob Grubb for 25 yards and the latter scored an additional 20 yards to chalk up six points. Still in the first period, Gruenwald threw to Cortez in the end zone for the second touchdown. The play was good for 12 yards.

In the second period Gruenwald, back to pass, found his receivers covered, so he tucked the ball under his arm and lugged it into pay off land. He passed to Dick Marquez for the extra point.

Third Period

The third period found the boys from Perpetual Help breaking into the scoring column. With Frank Bricker leading the way he passed to Nick Sutter to make the score read 19 to 6.

Jerry Gruenwald continued his fine performance in the fourth period by passing to Darell Hutchinson for the final touchdown of the afternoon. Jerry also ran over for the extra point to make the final score read, Colma P.M. 26, Perpetual Help 6. Frank Bricker turned in a sterling game on defense and prevented the Colma team from scoring additional points.

The games scheduled for Saturday October 20 will match the Colma A.M. teams against the winless Perpetual Help teams. Come out and root for your favorite team!

Local Semi-Pro Teams Report A Perfect Day Sunday

Local semi-pro teams had a perfect day last Sunday, with all three teams, Santos AC, Daly City AC, and Vince and Freds, registering victories.

Chuck Donley, 17 year old pitcher from Jefferson Union High School, allowed 13 hits while registering 18 strike outs. Donley, formerly played centerfield and was one of the club's leading hitters. The V and F's clinched the game in the 13th frame, when Neil Decker knocked in two runs with a single. Next Sunday the team will begin play in the Golden Gate Park Recreational league.

Steady short ground gains by Galante and Stevens, plus the short passing of Stevens, highlighted two sustained drives that placed the ball in scoring position. From there Tschirgi bulldozed over the goal strip.

Coach South praised the team's improved playing and spirit. He said, "The team improved one hundred per cent over the first two practice games. They showed a much greater spirit and drive."

AAA NATIONAL CAR RACE SLATED SUNDAY

Californians hold the upper hand among car owners and drivers entered in the 100-mile AAA National Championship big car race next Sunday afternoon at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds in San Jose.

Of the 25 entrants, 18 pilots hail from the Golden Gate, three of these from the northern section and the remainder from the south.

However, an Illinois chauffeur was established as pre-race favorite today. He's Torrid Tony Bettenhausen from Tinley Park, winner of seven events this year on the National Championship circuit and top man in point standings that determine the annual driving king. Tony's mount is the Murrell Belanger Special No. 99 from Crown Point, Ind., the car that was driven to a record-breaking victory this year at Indianapolis by the subsequently-injured Lee Wallard of Altamont, N. Y.

Mrs. Howe Is Taken To Hospital Friday

Mrs. Madeline Howe, 247 Irvington street, was taken to the Junipero Serra hospital last Friday noon following a stroke.

Besides taking Mrs. Howe to the hospital, Daly City police also took her two dogs to the pound to be sheltered.

Sunday local police received a call from Mrs. Howe's doctor informing them that Mr. Howe is also in the hospital and requested that their animals be taken care of until the two returned to their home.

CHILD IS TREATED FOR CONTUSIONS

Anita Moreno, 6 years old, 338 Irvington street, was treated at the Junipero Serra hospital for contusions following an accident Saturday morning.

According to reports of Daly City police, Anita darted out from in front of one car and into the side of a vehicle driven by Frederick Olsen, 251 Winchester street, in the vicinity of Crocker and Irvington streets.

IT'S A LUCKY SEVEN... years, this season, for NBC's Sunday night "Theater Guild on the Air" ... and again a concentrated effort is being made to surpass their already outstanding record as "radio most awarded program." Theater Guild draws from the most interesting dramas in literature and the finest of Broadway and Hollywood stars. Such plays as "The Major and the Minor," "20th Century," "Pigmalion" and other top dramas are being scheduled. This month, the entire cast and production staff will pack bag and baggage and take off to Houston to broadcast a show as a special salute to the State of Texas.

TO COIN A PHRASE... teenagers rush in where angels fear to tread ... and sometimes it's not a bad idea. At the age of 16 Jack Smith and two fellow students learned to copy the style of a famous trio engaged by Hollywood's Ambassador Hotel. When the trio's engagement was ended the unknowns applied for a job. Jack says, "We were young enough to have the nerve and somehow we got the job" ... which was the beginning of a most interesting career. Today, Jack Smith sings his way to stardom on CBS's weekday evening "Jack Smith-Dinah Shore-Ginny Simms Show" and has had his own radio show for five years.

Basic California Brochure Ready

Bank of America today began distributing its latest informative analysis of California's people and the economy in a large-size illustrated brochure entitled "Basic California."

California's tremendous recent growth is highlighted in a section on population and retail markets. Other subjects covered by summary and analysis include agriculture, manufacturing, construction, mineral production, automobiles and banking, constituting a study of California as a market for goods and services.

The brochure will soon be available through any of the Bank of America branches to businessmen, civic leaders and professional men.

The State Park System of California now includes more than a half million acres.

Vet Affairs

Korean Vets Receive Benefits

More than 200,000 veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict have established their eligibility for "Cal-Vet" low-interest farm and home financing, it is reported by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, San Mateo county.

"There is no reason why every veteran in San Mateo County who might qualify for this State benefit should not apply for a certificate at once," Granger added, "even if he does not intend to use it in buying a farm or home for years to come."

He pointed out that a "Cal-Vet" eligibility certificate may be particularly valuable to the veteran's family in case of his untimely death. State law provides that if he has established eligibility, his widow may succeed to it. If he has neglected to do so, there is no way in which she can benefit under the program.

The plan is available to veterans who were born in California or who were residents of this State at the time of entry into military service. Granger said that a number of World War II veterans, previously ineligible because they did not come to California until after the war, may now qualify for the plan by virtue of re-entry into active service from this State during the Korean conflict. Benefits received from their former State, based on World War II service, do not affect their new eligibility.

Under the "Cal-Vet" plan, the State Department of Veterans Affairs may advance up to $8500 for the purchase of a home or $15,000 for the purchase of a farm. The appraisal value of the property must not exceed $11,500 in the case of a home or $16,500 in the case of a farm.

Application forms and additional information are available at the Veterans Service Office, Court-house, Redwood City.

WHO DRAINS GAS TANK?

How many car owners ever think of draining the gasoline tank of their cars? Not many, declares the National Automobile Club. Yet it is urged by service experts as a wise course from time to time. A lot of the sediment that gets into the fuel line, especially when the gas supply is low, can be removed by periodic draining.

Italian Catholic Federation

Holy Year Jubilee Crusade Message To Be Heard By Italians of California

In proclaiming the Holy Year Jubilee, the Holy Father, Pope Pius XII expressed his greatest desire that the Holy Year would be for everyone the year of the "great return and of the great pardon."

At the close of the Holy Year last Christmas, the Holy Father extended the Jubilee to the whole world until Christmas 1951, thus to make it possible for all of those who were not able to journey to Rome to gain the benefits and the blessings of the Jubilee in their own localities.

In order to make possible and facilitate the gaining of the indulgences and benefits of the Jubilee for the Italians of California, the Italian Catholic Federation, with the approval of the Archbishops and Bishops of California, has organized a Jubilee Crusade that is to extend over all of California; the first of its nature, which has been termed or titled the Crusade of the Great Return.

For this extraordinary event the Italian Catholic Federation is bringing from Rome, Italy, one of the most acclaimed speakers of modern Italy in the person of the Franciscan Father Antonio Lisandrini, whose eloquent words have been heard by vast audiences not only in Italy but also in London, Paris and in Argentina.

He is a university professor and author of books on sociology and other subjects. As an orator he is not a rabble-rouser but a conscience-rouser preaching the gospel in a novel and most effective manner.

Father Lisandrini will bring to the Italians of California a special Pontifical Blessing of the Holy Father which he received at a private audience before leaving for California. The Jubilee has already met with a tremendous success.

The thousands of Italians of San Francisco will have occasion to hear Father Lisandrini when he will speak at SS. Peter and Paul Church at Stockton and Filbert Streets during the week of October 23 to 28 at 7:45 p.m. So large is the crowd that is expected that plans are being made, by the pastor, Reverend Joseph Costanzo, to have amplifiers set up in Washington Square Park so that all may hear the message of the great return and of the great pardon.

Leaving San Francisco the Jubilee Crusade will end its way to So. San Francisco, October 29, 30, 31; Redwood City, November 2, 3, 4, and Oakland, November 6 to 11.

Community Council Assists Residents

Community councils, as one of the great expressions of the vitality of democracy, offer opportunity to plan for social cohesion, Roy Sorenson, managing director of the San Francisco YMCA, told over 100 members and guests of the Council of Social Agencies at the annual dinner meeting held at the Villa Chartier, October 10.

The most important element for success in activities of a council is a genuine desire for a better organized community, one which offers a balanced ration, and more order in social welfare, education, health and recreational services, Mr. Sorenson brought out. Effective partnership of volunteers and professionals in a simple council structure is needed to study, plan and act together, to add up separate and individual efforts to more in meeting needs of people in our community, he said.

Mrs. Ralph Low, President of the Board of Directors of the Council of Social Agencies, a red feather agency, presided. The report for the past year brought out that 275 members attended the monthly meetings of the three units, Health, Family and Child Welfare, Group Work and Recreation. These were volunteer and professional workers representing 60 different organizations; 121 individuals worked on special study committees, including those on The Home Bound Chronically Ill, Homemaker Services, Dependent and Neglected Children, and Volunteer Bureau. Reports of these studies and recommendations were made.

For the coming year the Council of Social Agencies has been asked to establish a Committee on Child Health, to explore services available in this country for mentally retarded children, and to discover services and facilities available to unmarried mothers.

Officers elected to serve on the Board of Directors for the coming year are: Mrs. Ralph Low, president; Mr. James Torney, vice president; Mrs. Donald Grant, secretary; Mr. Victor Gile, treasurer; member-at-large, Mrs. Ruth Lyons.

Marks On Newly Painted Doors Create Stir

Marks on freshly painted garage doors created a considerable stir in the neighborhood of Mike Pappas, 834 Hanover street, Saturday afternoon.

When Pappas discovered this defacing of his newly repainted doors, he blamed the neighborhood children. Daly City police were called to quiet down Pappas and many of the irate parents of the locality.

170 Million dollars invested in their tomorrows!

Californians know that it takes money to educate today's youngsters for tomorrow's responsibilities—money for classrooms, libraries, playgrounds and other "tools of learning." A lot of this money comes from Bank of America through investment in school bonds. This financial support has helped create—in hundreds of California cities—the modern schools so vital to the development of today's children.

Everywhere in California the great resources of this bank are working for the development of communities like your own. Schools and other public buildings... streets... sewers... waterworks... municipal swimming pools and other civic improvements are being financed with many millions of Bank of America deposit dollars.

Here is statewide branch banking in action—working for you and your community, building ALL of California. Here is a banking service made possible only by progressive policies... vast resources... and statewide branch facilities.

Bank of America's bond portfolio includes about 450 school bond issues in addition to bonds for every other kind of municipal improvement.

Bank of America also lends to architects, contractors and manufacturers engaged in the important work of designing, building and equipping new schools and other public works.
